Tennis Tip by Mike Young

Angles create angles. When you hit an angled shot, instead of admiring the beauty of the angle, immediately position yourself for a possible angle in return. That will be the easiest, most natural shot for your opponent. Conversely, if your opponent hits lots of angles, try hitting down the middle and he will have more difficulty creating his angles.

It's Curtains For You!!!

Stay out of the curtains around the courts, or you could be HURT! The curtains are the boundary (just like a steel fence), and on the other side lurks beams, machines, ladders, carts, and people waiting. They are not meant to run through, or it could be "curtains for you!!!"
